

The University of Akron
School of Communication

Converged Media Immersion Program

Spring Semester 2015 • 15 Credits

Get the Multimedia Edge for Success

Whether you're a future business leader, politician, scientist, teacher, doctor, or professor, multimedia skills will give you an edge over the competition in your job search. The Converged Media Immersion Program builds the communication and multimedia technology skills vital to career success all in just one semester.

- Differentiate yourself from others in your field with video, audio, social media and storytelling skills.
- Study with expert faculty who have real world media experience.
- Work on a student media team, and enjoy out-of-class field experiences.
- Build a multimedia portfolio to help you in your job search.
- Compete for real-world experience in one of five paid internships guaranteed to CMIP graduates.
- Get an iPad Mini to keep upon completion of the program for your future media projects.

Open to all majors. No media experience required.

Students of sophomore standing or higher in any undergraduate degree program may apply.

For more information, and to apply, visit www.uakron.edu/CMIP

Program created through a generous grant by the

